

TRAINS RUN LATE ON BOTH ROADS

Engine Trouble Causes Frequent Delays—One Train Four Hours Late.

With a cylinder head blown out, engine 2366 on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway was put out of commission here Thursday night. The locomotive was hauling passenger train 137 from Chicago to Madison and arrived here at 8:30 instead of the scheduled time of 7:25. As a result, the 7:29 train to Mineral Point was delayed until 9 p. m. The cylinder was also cracked.

All trains on the Chicago & Northwestern were running 20 minutes to an hour and more late Thursday, due to engine trouble. Train 334 on the Northwestern, due here at 5:15 p. m. from Chicago, did not arrive until 5:30 a. m. Friday.

While switching in the South Janesville yards of the Northwestern Thursday night, two stock cars buckled and were badly smashed. Two men were killed. The wreckage was cleared in a half hour.

Free cigars and cigarettes, heretofore given daily to the non-union men at work at the South Janesville yards, were discontinued Friday. The company also stopped providing the men free of charge with overalls, gloves and caps.

Noted Speakers at M. W. A. Picnic, Labor Day at the Pines.

Matheson, N. D.—M. L. Helms, 60, banker and former state auditor of North Dakota, was killed when his automobile, jacked up for repairs, fell and pinned him underneath.

The Cross-Cut

A Serial Story of the Colorado Mines
By Courtney Ryley Cooper.

Copyright by Little, Brown & Co.

SYNOPSIS

At Thornton Fairchild's death his son Robert learns there has been a dark period in his father's life, which for almost 30 years has caused him suffering. The secret is hinted at in a "document" which also informs Robert he is now owner of a mining claim in Colorado, and advising him to see Henry Beamish, a lawyer.

Beamish tells Robert his claim is a silver mine and warns him against a certain man, "Squint Rodaine," his father's enemy. Robert goes to the mining town and finds an old friend of his father's, Harry, who is a keeper of a boarding house where his father had stayed. He also rescued a girl from a predicament, and turned away pursuers by giving them the wrong direction. Harry, an old Colorado miner, tells Robert that he is a silver mine and warns him against a certain man, "Squint Rodaine," his father's enemy.

A slight bump, and they were at the bottom. Before them the drift tunnel, damp and dripping and dark, waited, seeming to lead to nothing. Harry, who had been waiting for Robert, stepped forward and, holding a lantern, led him into the tunnel. The air was cold and the walls were wet. Harry, who had been waiting for Robert, stepped forward and, holding a lantern, led him into the tunnel. The air was cold and the walls were wet.

"Boy," he said slowly, "we're starting at something new—and I don't know where it's going to lead us. There's a bump up and it's over, and you're going to get anywhere in this mine, we'll have to go past it. And I'm afraid of what we're going to find when we get out there through it."

Clouds of the past began to rise and float past Fairchild's clouds, which carried visions of a white, broken old man sitting by a window, waiting for death, visions of an old safe and a letter it contained. For a long, long moment, there was silence. Then came Harry's voice again.

"I'm afraid it ain't going to be good news, Boy. But there ain't no way to get around it. You got to come out sometime—things like that won't stay hidden forever. And your father's gone now—gone where it can't hurt him."

"I know," answered Fairchild, in a queer, husky voice. "He must have known, Harry—he must have been willing that it come, now that he is gone. He wrote me as much."

"It's that or nothing. If we sell the mine, some one else will find it. And we can't let it be found without following the drift to the steps. But you're the one to make the decision."

"He told me to go ahead, if necessary. And we will go, Harry."

GRAIN

Chicago Review.
Chicago.—Decision of the reparations commission to grant Germany a respite on the payments due for the balance of 1922, had a strong influence on the wheat market here Friday. Receipts of wheat here were estimated at 100,000 bushels and deliveries on Sept. contracts this morning were only 15,000 bushels.

A good reaction set in later when some of the local buyers came long on a bulge of nearly two cents for December and then tried to take profits. The market was not so strong as it was a week ago. The commission houses were good buyers early. At the finish prices showed a net gain of 1/2 cent. Sept. 1.00 to 1.01 and Dec. 1.02 to 1.03.

Improvement in the European situation also gave firmness to corn. At the close of the day the market was unchanged to 1/2 cent. Sept. 50 to 51 and Dec. 51 to 52. Reports of serious deterioration in the western part of the belt, gave additional strength to corn and the market was 1/2 cent higher at the close. Oats were 1/2 cent higher at the close. Sept. 31 to 32 and Dec. 32 to 33. Provisions were weak.

MADISON ITALIAN IS SHOT TO DEATH

Grocer Murdered in Store; Feud Believed Cause of Crime.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
Madison—To an Italian feud is ascribed the death here Thursday night of Ignazio D'Amico, 44, who was shot as he sat in his grocery store. The man was killed almost instantly by bullets and slugs fired into his back from a sawed off shotgun.

A brother of D'Amico was slain under similar circumstances in a Chicago saloon, early in August. Police believe the killing here to be the outgrowth of the Chicago murder. The slain man had been sitting on the window ledge of his store, talking to his partner, Philip Arco, when, without warning, two shots were fired through the pane into his back.

D'Amico had only recently returned from Chicago where he went after the killing of his brother. He had lived in Madison seven months, coming here from Arena, Wis., his home for eight years following a hasty flight from Chicago, occasioned, police believe, by a vendetta.

The only clue to the slayers is a sawed-off shotgun found near the scene of the killing.

Broker Is Winner in New Apartment Building Scheme

The apartment house gag is the newest in fake get rich schemes. According to a discovery made by M. O. Stout, local attorney, it is being tried upon farmers in southern Wisconsin. He has heard of three cases so far.

Real estate brokers by one means or another are selling their work by inducing a farmer to build an apartment house. They tell a wonderful story of the heavy and easy income. When they close the deal, the farmer exchanges his rich farm for the pile of bricks in the windy city.

It was while investigating such a proposition for a client that Mr. Stout stumbled on the underhanded methods used.

The broker presents the prospective buyer with an attractive statement of the big annual income from rentals. So much for the credit side. On the debit side, he notes the things the farmer will naturally ask about, such as cost, etc., but fails to include many items of expense that naturally attend the building of an apartment house.

But, probing has shown that the property is usually mortgaged to its true value. Instead of selling to the farmer for a market price, further investigation reveals that the broker names a price ordinarily about 35 percent more than what the owner would sell for—for, be it known, the farmer is dealing with a broker, not the owner.

When the deal is made, the farmer will find he has an equity of a small sum—perhaps $5,000—has paid $60,000 and is minus his farm, while the owner might have sold for $40,000. The broker is the winner.

WOMAN'S ILLS MAKE 'UN-HAPPY HOME'

There is no question but what the ill of women conspire against domestic harmony. The husband cannot understand these troubles and the physician finds it hard to cure them; therefore the overworked wife and mother continues to drag around day in and day out with headaches and backache, and nervousness.

Such women should be guided by the experience of women whose letters we are continually publishing. Many of them declare that they have been restored to health, strength and consequent happiness by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after doctors and all other medicines had failed to help them. It will surely pay women who suffer from such ailments to try it.

How Are Women Going to Vote? Canvass Reveals Wide Range of Opinions

How are the women going to vote? This is the question puzzling the campaign managers for the different candidates whose fate will be settled at next Tuesday's primary, because the woman vote is still an uncertain quantity in the canvass calculations.

The Gazette reporter has interviewed a large number of Janesville women of all classes during the past few days, discovering a wide variety of views and a considerable measure of indifference and lack of information. Generally speaking, the organized club women are strong for Ganfield and Morgan, the principal reason given for this stand being the dry principles of these candidates, although the economic issues seem to have received much consideration from the club women. The voters of shopmen and other railroad workers will, it appears, vote to a large extent, for LaFollette though some of those interviewed said they would vote for Morgan rather than Blaine. The wives of two or three active LaFollette supporters outside of railroad circles announced their intention of voting for Ganfield and Morgan, but the reasons seemed to be more wish to be quoted. This indicates that not all women will vote as rabby does.

Most of the women interviewed were still undecided as to their choice of candidates for county offices, while the anomaly of a professed dry giving support to and receiving support from Senator LaFollette, as in the case of A. E. Garvey, was the most puzzling aspect of the entire canvass in the opinion of the women who are strong supporters of the candidates.

Only a few of the women interviewed were willing to be quoted publicly, and it is this article appears to give more space to one faction than another it is due solely to the fact that women supporters of other candidates refused to make statements for publication.

Those Who Favor LaFollette.
Mrs. Charles Swan, 615 Pleasant street is an ardent supporter of the entire LaFollette ticket and made the following statement:
"I favor the re-election of Senator LaFollette because I believe he stands for the interests of the working people and I do not believe that he is against the rights of temperance laws. I believe in the entire progressive republican platform because I think it will benefit the working people. I think Senator LaFollette is a good man and should be re-elected. I am strongly in favor of A. E. Garvey for the state senate because he is supporting the LaFollette platform. Blaine and Garvey are both wrong. The campaign in behalf of Mrs. Ben Hooper who seeks the democratic nomination as a candidate for United States Senator. Mrs. Manning explained that while Mrs. Hooper has opposition, the law requires that a candidate poll a certain percentage of the total vote in the primary in order to take a place on the ballot at the November election. Mrs. Manning made the following statement and favored Mrs. Hooper because I believe that we need women officials as well as men insofar as the women are equally competent. Mrs. Hooper is competent to all the office of United States senator because of her years of experience in the suffrage work as a lobbyist in both the state legislature and national congress. I approve of her pledge to do all in her power to eliminate war and of her stand in support of the prohibition amendment and Volstead law. I personally know her to be a woman who can give her full time to the interests of the government. With such a woman as our representative in the senate, Wisconsin would honor herself in being the first state to elect a woman senator.

Mrs. Manning stated further that she has been talking with women in parks and other public places and has been appalled at the indifference in the circumstances of the women toward political questions and voting.

For Ganfield and Morgan.
Mrs. Charles A. Sanborn, president of the City Federation of Women, made the following statement: "I am working for Ganfield and Morgan because I consider these candidates as the right kind of men who will do right by people of all classes. I consider Mr. Ganfield especially qualified to represent Wisconsin in the United States senate. I think the women generally are against any change in our prohibition laws or the return of beer and wine, and these women certainly cannot consistently vote for candidates who have wet records or wet backsides."

Mrs. Fannie Munger, president of the League of Women Voters, explained that the League is a non-partisan organization, whose membership includes supporters of all parties and factions, according to their individual preferences, and stated further, "I personally am supporting the Ganfield-Morgan state ticket because both candidates are dry. I believe thoroughly in Mr. Morgan's platform and that he is a man who, if elected, will carry it out. Mr. Ganfield represents my ideal of a statesman and a man of honor and good judgment who will promote sane legislative measures."

Mrs. Hugh Hemmingsway, Route 8, said, "I am for all dry candidates regardless of party as I believe that now is the crucial time in the dry fight. I do not approve of the policies or record of Mr. LaFollette on other important issues. I think many of the farm women in this vicinity as I do and will vote for Ganfield and Morgan."

Cites LaFollette Wet Record.
Mrs. O. W. Athon, president of the W. C. T. U., explained that her organization is non-partisan, but that its members desire to vote for dry candidates only. She said further, "I have not had the opportunity to inform myself on other issues but am supporting Ganfield and Morgan as the dry candidates. The Champion of Fair Play, a liquor paper published in Chicago, has the following to say in a recent issue, as to the record of Senator LaFollette. 'When he voted to submit the 18th amendment to the constitution to the various states, he was not really in sympathy with it and offered the amendment limiting the time of its passage to seven years. He voted against the Volstead law and against the more recent medicinal beer bill and on each occasion spoke most forcibly against both bills. He is deserving and justly tried to the hearty support of every liberal minded man and woman.'"

Mrs. Abbie Helms, who said she had visited all the communities in the First district, believes that if the women vote as they have told her they would, the woman's vote will carry the citizens' republican ticket by a large majority. She said further:

of the nation and one to whom we could point with pride. La Follette has failed in particular, and loyalty to his country, when he took sides with the enemy in time of war. He is not honest with his constituency when he denounces trusts, as he was one of the biggest trusts of the state and is still backed by another. He is a coward by not sticking his stand on the prohibition amendment, claiming to be wet in wet districts and dry in others. And finally he is an outcast from both political parties, and has called in his last six years in accomplishing any results in the senate."

Views of Working Women Varied.

The reporter talked with a large number of working women in stores, offices, restaurants and factories. Several of those women said they did not take any interest in voting because they couldn't find time to study the issues and candidates. In one business office employing four young women, one was not eligible to vote, one would not exercise herself, one was for LaFollette for senator and undecided as to other candidates and the fourth was for Ganfield and Morgan and all dry candidates. Two waitresses employed in the same restaurant said they did not have time to inform themselves so would not vote.

The reporter found two women clerks in one store who said they hadn't thought about it though much about it but said they would not support LaFollette. The fifth woman in this group was very outspoken in support of Ganfield and Morgan and said she thought Congressman Geopert had been in long enough, and she hadn't decided whether she would support Garvey or Nolan for the state senate. These factory workers said that there had been no discussion of political questions among the factory employees, candidates for joy rides and matrimony being the prevailing topics of conversation.

The question of how Janesville women will vote on primary day will be answered only when the votes are counted and even then nobody can tell for sure as the women's ballots are not to be any different from the ballots used by the men and there will be no separate ballot boxes.

Three-Man Jury Frees Woman of Assault Charge

After deliberating just 15 minutes Thursday afternoon, a three-man jury consisting of Edward McCue, Walter Britt and Lee Pierson found Mrs. Barbara McKinney not guilty of assaulting her sister, Mrs. Frankie Yost, on Aug. 10. Mrs. McKinney and Mrs. Yost by J. G. McWilliams.

The case was most peculiar due to the fact that the women are sisters and the court action was the result of a series of verbal battles in which each woman accused the other of using vile language and disturbing the general peace of the neighborhood.

Mrs. McKinney operates a refreshment stand on the Beloit road, known as Little Bohemia, while her sister lives on the opposite side of the highway.

On the witness stand, Thursday, Mrs. Edna Bliss, Rockton, told of the good reputation sustained by Mrs. Yost throughout the district and told of the alleged insults by Mrs. McKinney.

Both Mrs. McKinney and Mrs. Yost maintained a haughty dignity while in court room, and casting frequent glances of scorn at each other on the witness stand told of their peaceful dispositions and the unusually pugilistic tendencies of the other.

Milwaukee Lad Wins First Janesville Junior Golf Meet

Copyright 1920 by Geo. McManus

ADAMS IS VICTOR OVER MATHESON IN FIRST CITY PLAY

Dalton Adams, Milwaukee, is city junior golf champion of Janesville. After sweeping through the preliminaries and semi-finals on Wednesday, he played John Matheson of the Bower club in the final city play. Adams defeated Matheson, 3 up and 1. The title holder takes the Mrs. A. J. Harris silver cup. Born lads played excellent golf. Each had the same handicap, 20.

In Thursday consolation play, William Wilcox defeated Bob King, 2 up; John Holmes defeated Dick Harris, 1 up and Don Dady defeated Al Wood, 1 up.

Wilcox, Holmes and Dady were to draw Friday for the semi-finals in the consolation. One will be given a bye.

Busy Man's Sport Page

BY FRANK SINCLAIR

PERHAPS the general public is not unusually interested in the junior golf tournament for boys and girls which closed Friday at the Janesville Country club, but this must be another step forward in the sporting annals of the city. Numbers competing this year were small but they will increase as years go by.

Noting as one of the oldest golf clubs in the country, there is every reason for putting forth extraordinary efforts here to place Janesville higher in the golfing world. An annual meet for boys will go a long way toward bringing new blood out to boost the competitive interest in the game.

THOSE interested in the boys' meet might still get further. Why not interest other clubs in the Southern Wisconsin-Northern Illinois association to hold similar meets at each of their clubs? The boys will in fact, get a long way toward bringing new blood out to boost the competitive interest in the game.

Fort Plays off 14-Inning Tie With Waterloo

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Fort Atkinson—The local team in the Jefferson county league is scheduled to play off the 1-1 tie of July 19 with Waterloo at Waterloo Saturday afternoon. The teams went to 14 innings Saturday's game being one of the most interesting of the season.

Arrangements for the American Legion's great pow wow to be held here next Thursday, are going along in nice shape. The big event on the program will be a battle between the Famous Champions of which Dickie Key is a member, and the Beloit Pirates. These teams have been playing on even terms through the season in the Mid-West league and upon exhibition.

Another battle between Edgerton of the Southern Wisconsin circuit and Fort Atkinson of the Jefferson county loop will be staged with the "Slim" Walsh of Janesville on the mound for the "Robbies" city and Frankie, best pitcher in the Jefferson wheel, pitching for Fort.

There will be cavalry stunts; races for men, women and children; a barbeque; band concerts and a dance.

Cats and Moose Getting Ready for Second Clash

With the upper edge so far after having had wins of 1 to 0 and 3 to 2, the Moose will again clash with the Black Cats in the third of the series for the city baseball championship Sunday. The game is to be played on the Black Cat home diamond on North Washington street and Macnolia avenue.

Those who saw last Sunday's battle were so pleased with the excellent and speedy type of baseball shown that the crowd for this next contest promises to reach better than 700. The fight for the title is the hardest seen here in years.

On Monday afternoon the Black Cats and the Milton Junction Crescents are to meet at the 3500th's place on North Washington street—"The Pines"—in a return.

PERRING'S MANORS AT BELLOTT SATURDAY

George Perring's Marquette Manors, which have been among the most troublesome teams this season to the Beloit Pirates, are scheduled to play at the Gateway city Saturday. Sullivan and Vaughn or Davenport will be the probable batteries.

TENNIS CLUB IN MEETING FRIDAY

The Janesville "T" tennis club is to hold a special meeting at the Y. M. C. A. at 8 p. m. Friday. Plans for a city tennis meet for men are to be made. The meeting is postponed from Thursday.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Story of Davis Net Cup Is of True Sportsmanship

New York—In all annals of sport there is no more colorful story than that of the Davis net cup, a symbol for a fifth of a century of world-wide supremacy in team tennis. In no other branch of athletics have men gone to so much effort to win, nor traveled so far for the sport, nor shown such a willingness to play each other with no regard except the red-blooded fellow's satisfaction in meeting an opponent in fair game for the honor of his nation.

Since the cup was donated in 1900 by Dwight F. Davis, Washington, D. C., now a vice president of the United States Lawn Tennis association, three countries have held it: the United States, British Isles and Australia. As many as 12 have contested in one year. Australia has kept it longest, winning and defending it six times. America and Great Britain five times each.

The original idea was a contest between the United States and Great Britain. The first matches were played at Boston, Mr. Davis and M. D. Whitman, representing this country, easily defeating A. W. Gore and E. D. Black, England.

Other Nations Compete

However, Backland challenged again in 1901, but unable to organize a team, waited until the next year. They lost, but returned in 1903 with the famous Doherty brothers and won easily, losing only one of the five matches and that by a technical default.

During the four years the cup remained in England other European nations challenged. The United States did not challenge in 1903; Belgium and France did in 1904. In 1905 Australia made its premiere with Norman P. Brookes and the late Anthony F. Wilding.

Australia was defeated by the United States, which lost to England. In 1907 Australia defeated America in a preliminary round—the only time this country failed to reach the challenge round. The Antipodeans then defeated Britain and took the cup. Undaunted by three successive failures, America challenged Australia.

Carried on Field

In 1908 Budge Wright and Fred B. Alexander defeated England and went to Australia. With the two men, Australia played a match that lasted three hours. Both had to be carried from the field, Wright winning. Alexander became so nervous that he was unable to start the deciding match with Wilding and was easily defeated.

The advent of Maurice E. McLoughlin marked the match of 1909 which America lost. In 1910 the United States did not challenge, but the following year it sent a team to New Zealand and lost. In 1912 the United States did not challenge and Great Britain won from Australia.

With McLoughlin at his best form, the United States went through three rounds in 1913, defeating Australia, Germany and Canada, taking the cup from Great Britain, but losing it the following year to Australia. McLoughlin defeated Brookes in that year, the first set going 13-15.

The games were not held during the war, but in 1919, out of deference to the more war-scarred nations the United States remained out, entering in 1920 and winning with William T. Tilden II, Philadelphia, who also became a singles champion that year, and William M. Johnston, San Francisco.

Last year 12 nations challenged and the United States successfully defended the cup against Japan, which swept its way to the challenge round.

Names of stars selected at the conclusion of future seasons will be added to the monument. The magnitude of the trophy cannot be judged by the fact that the American league has appropriated $100,000 to build it and leading sculptors of the nation will be asked to submit designs.

Chicago Man on Board

The plan proposes that selection of the player shall be made annually by a committee of sports writers of the eight cities in the league. J. E. Barnum, a veteran writer of the eight cities and a member of the committee, and its other members are J. C. O'Leary, Boston; Harry Nelly, Chicago; H. P. Edwards, Cleveland; H. G. Salt, Detroit; W. B. Hanna, New York; J. C. Isminger, Philadelphia; J. Ed. Wray, St. Louis, and Denman Thompson, Washington.

Ty Cobb, Detroit manager, and Tris Speaker, Cleveland leader, will not be eligible for selection on account of being "playing managers," but the competition is wide open for all other players. Batting, fielding and pitching records alone are not to be the basis for selection, but faithfulness, continuity of service and conduct—both on and off the field—are to be items of consideration. The rules for governing the award of the trophy are needed today by President Ben Johnson following.

The purpose of the American league trophy is to honor the baseball player who is of greatest all-round service to his club and credit to the sport during each season. To recognize and reward uncommon skill and ability when exercised by a player for the best interests of his team and to perpetuate his memory.

Batting, fielding, or pitching averages shall be given due consideration but not such as to constitute the sole factors in the choice, remembering that combined offensive and defensive ability, is not always indicated by any system of records. Faithfulness, continuity of service during a season, freedom from injury and illness shall be taken into consideration. Conduct on and off the field, absence from games on account of the exercise or discipline by managers, club-owners, or league officials shall constitute part of the term. The trophy shall be awarded to the winning team of a track and field meet.

The Trophy committee shall choose the best player by a composite ballot based on an amplification of the point system used to determine the winning team of a track and field meet.

test and placed 13th in the open class.

As a result, Rock county stands out as one of the leading counties in junior livestock work. Miss Clark was the feature of the junior show in the big arena. The tankard, ring was crowded with ambitious and eager youngsters and their calves.

There was no better show-girl or boy in the ring than Miss Clark, who posed her calf and soon went to the head of the line where she remained.

The championship ribbons have been won on the following classes: Milking Shorthorns, three.

Sheep, seven.

Herefords, two.

Chester White swine, one.

Clydesdale filly, two.

Win With Swine

Rock county swine breeders won more blue ribbons and prize money than any other county, scoring high with Chester Whites and Duroc-Jacks.

Butts and Babcock, Evansville, came through with 30 blue ribbons, junior sow championship, two seconds and two thirds. There were 18 heads entered in the Chester White class and the Evansville breeders scored more points than any other individual.

Top-Monster, last year's grand champion, took second in his class. The grand champion sow is owned by M. A. Dupuis, Menomonie, and the junior champion sow by Darenthal Farms, Minnesota.

Butts and Babcock took first on junior sow pig, first on junior sow, third, young herd, third, breeders' herd; third, young breeders' herd, second, get of sire; first on produce of sow; first on future sow; first on future sow litter and first on future sow litter.

The grand champion sow is owned by J. J. DeBault, Bloom, Wis. The junior champion ribbon went to the Rock county breeders.

There was a remarkable class of Chesters in the ring. All were good type animals that took the ribbons and the showing made by the Evansville breeders indicates that Rock county stands first in the breeding of Chester Whites. They have scored high at the state fair for a number of years. They will show both at the Rock county fair in Evansville and at Walworth county.

Win With Durocs.

In Duroc-Jersey swine Rock county scored 387 points with the county exhibit, and there were 401 Durocs shown in the ring. Honors were split about even between the leading breeders of the state. Grunwaldt won grand championship, bear honors on the first prize, age board named Permit. This pig will tip the scales at about 1,000 pounds and is an outstanding animal.

Clarence Croft, placed fourth on Fashion-Plate, Henry Wieland & Sons, Beloit, took second honors on Valley Giant, grand champion at the Janesville fair in the junior yearling class. Eugene Croft, a brother of Clarence Croft, Vesper, Wis., took first in the class on Cedar Orion. Russell took junior championship bear honors on Sensation.

The winners of Rock county on Durocs follow: Age bear, Clarence Croft, (4); senior yearlings, bears, Croft, (1); junior yearlings, bears, Henry Wieland & Sons, (2); J. J. DeCann and sons, (5); junior bear pigs, Croft, (3); L. A. Ruchli, (5); future litter, bears, Croft, (2); and Russell, (5).

On age sows Rock county placed fifth and on senior yearling sows, H. Parker won fourth and Croft fifth. Junior yearling sows, Croft, (3), and he placed tenth in the full-sow future. In the junior sow pigs with 82 shown, Parker stood eight, Ruchli, ninth and tenth. Junior sow future, Parker, eighth; Ruchli, seventh and eighth. Ruchli placed third in the future litter contest of the state.

On young herd Croft placed eighth and Parker ninth; young herd bred by exhibitor, Croft eighth and Parker ninth; get of sire, Parker fourth; daughters of Jack's Big King, Ruchli, seventh; produce of sow, Ruchli, fifth; Parker, ninth; age herd, Croft, fourth.

A. O. Fursath placed in several of the classes for Poland-China swine. C. O. Hooper, Beloit, also showed Poland-Chinas.

In the Duroc classes, Rock county won 25 ribbons. The showing of the Walworth herd, Valley Giant, proved to be a sensation. Had this herd been in better flesh and carried more weight he would have been in the running for championship honors.

The judge took him out of the ring and moved him into the second pen at once and the Rock county entry remained in this position.

On sheep Rock county outdistanced every other county by a safe margin. Between the winners of W. G. Miles, Evansville, Broughton Brothers, Albany, and Eli Crall and son, Evansville, the county scored 1763 points.

The Rock county flock made practically a clean sweep in three classes and finished well in the other divisions.

On Rambouillet, Miles scored 14 blue and five seconds and won championship honors for all five wool flocks. On Hampshire, Miles took 13 seconds, two thirds and three fourths. Crall took six fairs in Dorsets. On Southdown, Miles took all blue ribbons with one exception and four championship ribbons.

In Sheep Contests.

The Shropshire show was the feature of the sheep exhibit. There were a number of fine flocks entered. Broughton brothers and W. G. Miles both had entries and between them collected most of the blue ribbons. Broughton had championship yearling ram and grand champion flock and Miles won championship on ewes. Broughton in all took six firsts, nine seconds, 12 thirds, three fourths and three fifths. Miles took first on age ram and the ewe, second on flock, and five firsts, making 11 firsts in this class for Rock county.

The sheep herd of Miles will be sent to the extensive fair circuit to Minnesota and then into the southern states. They will stay out exhibiting Rock county sheep for three or four months.

C. R. Roason and son, Evansville, took junior and grand championship honors on Fairy Footprint, a Clydesdale filly. This filly will be shown at the Chicago International, where the entry to be one of the best prospects of the breed.

In the county booth contest, in which Rock county did not have an entry, Dodge county took first, Shawano, Racine, Wood, Milwaukee and La Crosse county in the order named. Rock will enter this contest next year according to County Agent R. F. Glasco.

Rock county has several of the best grain and seed showmen in the state, declared Tom Campion, in charge of county exhibits. "Rock county more with her seeds and grain, for it is hard to find better. On certain seeds, one cannot find superior products than that produced in Rock county."

Grand Champion Bull.

The oldest bull in Rock county Holsteins exceeded even the brightest hopes of the breeders in the county, considering that it was the first time out with a county herd and that the competition represented the cream of the Wisconsin black and whites. The classes were large and won high praise from Judge W. S. Moscrip who pointed out outstanding animals having merit enough to represent Wisconsin at the national dairy show at the Twin Cities.

The victory of Cusack and O'Hara, Davenport, Walworth county, in repeating grand championship honors on Walcotts Ollie Hylaard, a son of Iowa Sir Ollie, was pleasing to the Rock county men.

Walworth county scored strong on the males, but in the matter of points, Jefferson county carried off first honors. The Jefferson men collected a wonderful collection of the black and whites and deserved being first in the county contests.

The champion cow is owned by Baird brothers, Waukesha county, and was pointed out as being one of the best type Holstein cows ever led into the Wisconsin show ring.

Rock county scored strongest in the junior heifer contest. The state Mercedes Elgin, owned by Funk brothers, went to the head of the line at the start of the judging and stayed there. Edith Clark, showing a calf she won on in the Rock county Holstein contest, placed second place in the open contest. An entry of J. J. Fisher took seventh place and the calf shown by Alice Clark took 15th position, in the money.

winners were as follows: Jefferson, Waukesha, Dodge, Walworth, Sheboygan, Rock, La Crosse and Fond du Lac.

As soon as we get home, Rock county is going to start preparing for the fair next year," say the Holstein breeders. "This was a good start and with new blood and further improvement we can make Rock county first with Holsteins. The showing at the state fair was the best thing that ever happened for Rock county Holstein interests. We will come back stronger next year."

In beef Shorthorns, the Rock county breeders shared in the honors with seven other herds. J. J. McCann placed first with Master's Signet in the age bull class and was second with Jason of Geneva in the age cow class. Bapton Prince, owned by Reynolds brothers was grand champion bull with junior championship honors going to the Anoka Farms, Waukesha county.

J. W. Lathers, Jack Wright also placed in many of the classes. There were seven herds of Herefords entered in the contests and the rivalry was keen. J. J. INDIA NOT READY FOR HOME RULE Land-of-Dense Ignorance, Declares Woman Missionary on Furlough.

Characterizing India as "a land of dense ignorance not ready for home rule," and Gandhi as "a sincere but misguided leader," Miss Esther A. Baird, missionary back on a furlough from Nongaw, Central India, talks hopefully of the land where she has been a missionary.

"India is in constant change," she says, "so what I might say from observation three months ago would be entirely different by this time."

"But I can say that the great mass of people in India are ignorant of the responsibility of governing themselves. England is gradually bringing them to the point where they can rule themselves. America is anxious for that day to come. But it is not here yet."

"Gandhi is a remarkable man. So simple minded and sincere. Yet I sometimes think that he should be able to see the results of his teachings. The people who followed him like a god go far beyond his teachings."

"He does not teach resistance to law, merely non-cooperation. But his followers in their zeal rush far beyond that stage."

"England was wonderfully patient with Gandhi for a long time, but now he is serving a six years' prison sentence."

"Images of mud representing Gandhi are made by the people and worshiped," she said. "If the situation follows its natural course, he will be added to the lists of gods and worshiped as the others are."

Human Touch in Church Essential, Declares Bishop

Warning the Episcopal church against an intense parochialism which he says is retarding its real use in the world, and charging the clergy to "get converted" that they may truly interpret its mission, the Right Rev. Irving E. Johnson, bishop of Colorado, has prepared a report to be presented to the general convention, which will assemble in Portland, Ore., Sept. 5.

"Our people have to be taught that they belong to the Holy Catholic church rather than to the parish of the Good Samaritan," declared the bishop. "The church is not merely a business, and business methods merely will be as disastrous to its morals as merely ecclesiastical methods would surely wreck a bank. There is and must be a human touch in Christ's business."

"You have first to convert the clergy to a broader conception of their ministry than one of preserving the fine traditions of ancient diocese or keeping up the morals of a fine parish," he concludes.

Plenty of entertainment at M. W. A. Picnic, Labor Day.

LOYALTY LEAGUE SUM SPENT BEFORE CAMPAIGN, ANSWER

Madison—Martin R. Paulsen, candidate for secretary of state, yesterday answered the assertion of Robert M. La Follette, Jr., that he had offered to pay at least one ex-soldier for his services in working for the Wisconsin Loyalty League, an anti-La Follette organization. His statements follow:

"The Wisconsin Loyalty League, with which I was identified early in 1921, is not an active organization today. This organization spent less than $100 in all the time it was in existence. No compensation was ever paid to any one for services rendered.

"At the time I was connected with it I had not the remotest thought of being a candidate for any office, and the trifling sum spent by it while I was active in its affairs was all expended long before the conference on June 1, at which I received the call to make this campaign against socialism and radicalism."

NEW LAMP BURNS 94% AIR

Beats Electric or Gas.

A new oil lamp that gives an amazing brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal-oil). Invented by F. D. Johnson, 509 W. Lake St., Chicago is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to any one who will help to introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and the experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

RETORT AT DANCE LEADS TO ARREST

Beloit—The hot retort of a Beloit girl at Waverly beach Thursday night in response to a request for a dance from a stranger, led to the arrest of Henry Staszark, Chicago, and evidence that may clear up moonshine sales in Beloit.

Staszark and Charles Gorman, Beloit, testified Thursday that they "hopped" a cab for Waverly beach and that the driver, Charles Fonda, Beloit, unhesitatingly offered liquor for sale. They accepted his price and "purchased" a pint of moonshine.

Arriving at the dance hall, Gorman slipperily asked a girl for a dance. She replied, "I'm particular." Hot words resulted, the police were called and the moonshine found on Staszark. Police have sworn out a warrant for the arrest of Fonda and believe they may clear up a series of moonshine sales.

Total$140

Responses to the appeal of the Janesville railroad strikers for funds to thwart present and possible suffering among their women and children, are commencing to come in greater amounts. Friday, a check for $25 was received from the T. J. Ziegler Clothing company through Joseph M. Connors. The suggestion has been made that people, having extra clothing may find use for it by giving it to the strikers. The children of a number of the families of the 158 men on strike will be returning to school within a few days and will require shoes and other apparel. Preserves and other food might also be given. Donations of money or clothing can be made through the Gazette.

MIGHT BE COMEDY FOR OTHERS, BUT TRAGEDY FOR HIM

Detroit—Walter L. Dunham, vice president of the Dime Savings bank, was arrested Aug. 19 for driving 21 miles an hour. He was found guilty and sentenced to 25 fine and one day in jail. He paid the fine, but asked to attend an important meeting of the bank's directors before going to jail. Nobody making him go to jail. After the meeting he went to jail. At 5 o'clock the turnkey told him his time was up. On Wednesday the police called him up and notified him to come and serve his time in jail. He explained that he had already done so, but as the department had no record of it he had to go in again. He had hardly seated himself at his desk in the bank Thursday when a policeman stepped up with a warrant for his arrest for not serving his time in jail. "I've served that term twice," Dunham declared, and was finally induced to explain to the judge.

LAUNCH VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN AGAINST RAIL TERRORISTS

found him hiding in a corner and, as they started away to lock him up, he started questioning in connection with the bombings at Burnside, the house was rocked by an explosion six doors away. Hurrying to the scene they found the front of a house occupied by D. Merrick, an Illinois Central employe, demolished by a bomb. Disclosure of an alleged plot against the life of three railroad presidents, and the members of their families were made during the investigation of radical activities, according to the Herald and Examiner Friday. The three men, all headed against whom the alleged plot was made, were said to be the presidents of the New York Central Lines, the Pennsylvania System and the Rock Island.

May Deport Aliens
Deportation proceedings against aliens arrested in connection with the plots against the railroads are probable, authorities said.

Other developments included threats against railroad officials at Memphis, the dynamiting of a Pennsylvania railroad bridge at Wilmington, Del., and the slugging of a Missouri Pacific shop foreman at Sedalia, Mo.

DETOURS VANISH ON STATE ROADS

Milwaukee-Madison Route Is Clear; Labor Day Trips to be Smooth.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Milwaukee—The Milwaukee Journal's week end review by its tour department says:

"For the first time in two years, there is now a non-detour route between Milwaukee and Madison on Highway 19, the final detour having been taken off this week, which now makes it possible to travel between 45 and 50 of the 53 miles to Madison over concrete. The remainder of the road being good gravel. With the opening of 15 to the north and 19 to the west, the 'over-labor day' travelers have the best opportunity for unobstructed travel they have had in three years."

Tourist traffic over labor day promises to be exceptionally heavy. The scarcity of cement is becoming a serious matter in road construction and there are now grave doubts as to the finishing of some of the other concrete projects this year.

Highway 15 and 17 to Oakbrook and Green Bay are in good condition, as are 12-33, leading to La Crosse.

BONUS PROSPECTS RENDERED GLOOMY AS BILL PASSES

approval, the champions of the bill will work to get the thing in such shape as to attract the presidential pen.

So far as Mr. Harding is concerned, he has reiterated recently that he favors a bonus, but that unless a sales tax is enacted the legislation should be postponed until the nation's finances are in better condition than they are now. Senator Smoot proposed a sales tax and it was rejected in the senate. Thus, the prospects for the bonus are rendered gloomy.

The president has not publicly proclaimed his intention of vetoing the bill, however, nor has he said so in any formal way to congress.

In response to inquiries, he has declared he did not think it proper for the chief executive to say what his course would be in advance of action by congress. This is not an altogether new conception of executive courtesy toward congress, but it is in line with Mr. Harding's belief that the legislative branch should be given every opportunity to exercise its free judgment without outbursts from the White House, or congress have excused their votes on the ground that they did not wish to vote against the president or that they felt it useless to champion a bill which was certain of executive disapproval.

Would Welcome Veto.
The president's idea is that congressional responsibility for the passage of legislation shall rest solely on members of congress. He knows, of course, that many members of congress who might otherwise oppose the bonus are fearful of political consequences and would be pleased with a presidential veto for they would be squaring themselves with their soldier constituents on the one hand, while the others who think it harmful to the community will be spared the ill-effects by the action of the executive in killing the bill.

Curiously enough, the thought of the moment is that failure to pass over the president's veto will end the matter. But it will not. Politicians who have watched congress behave under the stress of fall elections are of the opinion that the day of the bonus is merely being postponed, and that the republican party will not dare to go into the 1924 presidential campaign without a specific pledge in favor of a soldier bonus and that the presidential candidate will find it necessary to make that pledge. Broadly speaking, the advocates of soldier bonus will not quit their fight with the present session of congress. They really believe their chances of ultimate success are better than ever and that the votes in both houses of congress either before or after the presidential veto, will be an overwhelming mandate to the republican party and its choice for 1924.
